

Declaration of Consent

This document has been prepared to ensure compliance with data protection laws. It states the Cookie Policy and Cookie Consent Settings to furnish proof of your consent for the time and region specified below. Further Information concerning this document are available at <https://complianz.io/consent>.

This Cookie Policy was last updated on 18 November 2020 and applies to citizens of the European Economic Area.

1. Introduction

My website, <https://technische-uebersetzungen-eva-schwarz.de> (hereinafter: "The Website") uses cookies and similar technologies (for convenience, all of these are collectively referred to as "cookies"). Cookies are also placed by third parties I commissioned. In the following I inform you about the use of cookies on my website:

2. What are cookies?

A cookie is a simple small file that is sent together with the pages of an internet address and can be stored by the web browser on the PC or other device. The information stored there-in may be sent to my provider's servers or relevant third party servers during subsequent visits.

3. What are scripts?

A script is a piece of programme code that allows my website to function properly and interactively. This code is executed either on my provider's server or on your device.

4. What is a Web Beacon

A web beacon (also called a pixel tag) is a small invisible fragment of text or image on a website that is used to monitor traffic on this website. To do this, various data of your visit are stored by means of web beacons.

5. Cookies

5.1 Technical and functional cookies

Some cookies ensure that parts of my website work properly and that your user preferences are remembered when you visit my website next time. By placing functional cookies, I make it easier for you to visit my website. I can place these cookies without your consent.

5.2 Social media buttons

On my website, I have added buttons for social media, such as LinkedIn, to support web pages (e.g. "Like", "Pin") or sharing (e.g. "Tweet") on social networks such as LinkedIn. These buttons use a code that comes from the social media themselves. This code places cookies. These social media sites may also store and process certain information so that personalised advertising can be displayed to you.

Please read the privacy statements of these social networks (which may change regularly) to learn how they handle your (personal) data that they process using these cookies. The retrieved data are anonymised as far as possible. Some of these networks have their headquarters outside the EU.

7. Consent

When you visit my website for the first time, you will see a pop-up requesting your consent to use cookies. As soon as you click on "Save settings", you give your consent to apply all the categories of cookies and plug-ins you have chosen as described in this Cookie Policy. You can disable the use of cookies via your browser, but you should bear in mind that my website may not be displayed correctly or function properly afterwards.

8. Your rights concerning your personal data

You have the following rights in relation to your personal data:

- You have the right to know the purposes for which your personal data are collected, what happens to them and how long they are kept.
- Right of access: You have the right to access your personal data known to me.
- Right of correction: You have the right, whenever you wish, to have your personal data completed, corrected, deleted or blocked.
- If you have given me your consent to process your data, you have the right to withdraw this consent and have your personal data deleted.
- Right of data transfer of your personal data: You have the right to request all your personal data from one controller and to transfer it in its entirety to another controller.

- Right of objection: You can object to the processing of your data. I will comply with your request unless there are legitimate reasons for processing your data.

To exercise your afore-mentioned rights, please contact me using the contact details given at the end of this document. If you wish to complain about my handling of your data, I will be happy to deal with that complaint. However, you have the right to address this complaint to the supervisory authority (the data protection authority).

9. Enabling/disabling or deleting cookies

You can configure your internet browser to automatically or manually delete cookies. You can also specify that certain cookies may not be placed. Another option is to change the settings of your internet browser so that you receive a message each time a cookie is set. For more information on these options, see the instructions in the help section of your browser.

Please note that my website may not function properly if all cookies are disabled. If you delete the cookies in your browser, they will be placed again when you visit my website.
